Fr. Francis M. Flaherty To Leave St. Peter's For Church in Chicago

Highly Respected Priest Gets Greater Assignment In Larger Parish

The Rev. Francis M. Flaherty will end his pastorate at St. Peter's church the last of this month to become pastor of St. Peter Canisius church at 5087 W. North ave., Chicago.

The transfer to the Chicago church brings to an end 20 years of service of Fr. Flaherty at the Antioch church during which time he endeared himself to his parishioners and gained the respect of the entire Antioch community. His leaving will be greatly regretted.

Fr. Flaherty is taking a larger assignment, going to a church with a membership of 2,000 families, and a school of nearly 900 pupils. He will have four assistants.

The vacancy there occurred through the death two months ago of Fr. James Cunningham, founder of the parish.

Before coming to Antioch 20 years ago, Fr. Flaherty first served the Immaculate Conception church at North Park ave., Chicago, and then served in the Chicago Cathedral four years.

Big Increase at St. Peter's
During the years he has been here he has seen the local membership increased fivefold. In addition he administered to thousands of vacation visitors during the summers.

The parochial school founded two years ago through his efforts and those of his assistant, Fr. Francis Gilbride now has an enrollment of 266. He credits his assistant with much help in revitalizing the various organizations of the local church.

Fr. Flaherty will be succeeded by the Rev. Alfred Henderson, professor at Quigley Preparatory seminary, Chicago, with residence at Mel's church. Fr. Henderson has been stationed at the seminary 20 years.

Fr. Flaherty said he did not know just what date the transfer will be made, but said he will announce to his congregation this information the week before he leaves.

Joint Meeting of P.T.A., Board of Education on School Addition Planned

The grade school Parent-Teacher association and the board of education of that school will hold a joint meeting at 8 p. m. Monday during which the proposed building program will be discussed. The meeting will be in the school auditorium.

Officials of the P.T.A. extended an invitation to all interested persons to attend.

The need for additional space caused by a growing enrollment will be explained.

Architects Ganster and Hennighausen will show stereopticon slides of features of new buildings.

Antioch Post Will Play Host to 10th Dist. Legion Fri.

Antioch Legion post No. 749 will have as guests members and officers of the 10th District Friday evening at a regular meeting of the 10th district. Antioch is one of the 22 posts represented by the 10th district and the night is a big affair for the post in that one meeting of the district is held here annually.

Charles Whiteleather, 10th District commander, will be here with his corps of officers to conduct the meeting, and it is expected that more than 150 out-of-town guests will be present. The Legion Auxiliary will serve refreshments after the meeting. A regular meeting of the local post is scheduled for tonight.

Junior Class Play at Grade School Tomorrow Will Draw Full House

A full house is expected tomorrow evening when the curtain goes up on the Junior class play "Finders Creepers" at the grade school auditorium.

Dress rehearsals have been held and the final polish placed on the acting for presentation of what is expected to be one of the most entertaining plays presented for many years.

The mystery comedy has for its setting a room next to a morgue. Juniors were interviewed over radio station WKRS at 11 a. m. last Thursday. Those appearing on the radio were Joan Cervenka, Karen Martin, Boake Baird, Mary Kisel and Jim Osmond.

Antioch Firemen and Rescue Squad Aid at Fox Lake Store Fire

The Antioch fire department and rescue squad and the Lake Villa and Ingleside fire departments gave aid Tuesday to the Fox Lake fire department in preventing the spread of a fire that destroyed the Paul Tietboehl grocery and residence on Rte. 50.

The fire, starting at 11:40 a. m., leveled the building with a loss estimated $15,000, but the firemen saved other nearby residences that at first appeared to be doomed, but were undamaged.

Tietboehl, 50, the store owner, was treated by the Rescue squad when he suffered a heart attack, and two neighbors, Agot Sorenson, 55, and Mrs. Auga Fischer, 74, were treated for shock.

Four streams of hose were played on the building by the four departments which shuttled in hauling water to the scene. A downpour of rain also helped conquer the flames.

New County Building Code Adopted Tuesday; Rosing Votes Opposition

With William Rosing, Antioch, and Justus Depke, Gurnee, casting the only dissenting voice, the Lake county board of supervisors adopted a new county building code Tuesday.

Coupled with the resolution adopting the new code were resolutions setting up a scale of fees for building and alteration permits and the creation of a department of buildings, zoning and maps.

G. M. Dixon, Gurnee, superintendent of the map department was named to head the new department which will take in his present department at a salary of $6,600.

Supervisor Rosing complained that the expense of operation would be too great and that the rules would work a hardship on the home builder.

Proponents of the code said the cost would be no more than charged in cities and villages and that the income would more than pay the expense of the office.

The supervisors overlooked one thing, however, in their plan to put the new code in operation within 30 days. They forgot that it takes an appropriation before the money can be spent and the appropriation must wait until next year.

Bob Floyd led the attack for Antioch with 17 points on eight goals and a free throw. Ken Rentner took runner-up laurels with 11 points while Bruce Stahmer and Bud Dittmer both chalked up nine points each.

Getchell Tells Students To Study Bill of Rights In Armistice Day Talk

School children were urged to re-read the Bill of Rights and dedicate their lives to the preservation of the principles on which this nation was founded in an Armistice Day speech delivered Monday afternoon by Douglass Getchell, Grayslake, at the grade school auditorium.

Getchell, an Illinois representative to the national organization of the American Legion, said the United States is pledged to see that all of Korea is freed from Communist control.

"Did you ever see an American youth stop at a goal line when he can go over," he asked.

The speaker found fault with the policy of the present administration in trying to arbitrate instead of pushing the Communists out of Korea, providing through this delay the opportunity for the enemy to arm and gain an advantage.

Introduced by Cmdr. Onstad Getchell was introduced by O. I. Onstad, commander of the Antioch post, American Legion. He reminded the audience of grade and high school students and townspeople that Armistice day is a time commemorating the end of hostilities in World War I, dedicated to the peace growing out of World War II, and a time of prayer for the safe return of those in the Korean war.

Cmdr. Onstad was introduced by Principal R. C. Edmundson of the Antioch Township High school.

The Legion color guard presented the colors and Adjutant Roman Vos gave the prayer followed by a moment of silence in respect to those who gave their lives in service.

Mrs. Ed Jahneke, president of the Legion auxiliary, introduced two Gold Star mothers, Mrs. George Randall and Mrs. Nellie Hanke, and read the names of five others, Mesdames L. C. Scott, Carl Carlson, Edwin Knickelbein, Mary Mann, and Harry Nielsen who were unable to be present.

Charles Bock, high school student, sang the national anthem.

A short service was held at the 11 o'clock hour at the Legion home followed by an open house with luncheon served to all at noon by the Legion auxiliary.

NO PARADISE

Next January, a retailing association* which has a membership of more than 7,000 department, chain and specialty stores will hold its annual meeting in New York. An announcement says that attendance by retailers is expected to be substantially larger than at past meetings—because of heightened concern in retail circles over government price and wage policies. These subjects will be exhaustively discussed.

A great many people seem to think that the present era is something of a retailers' paradise with high prices, big sales volume, and so on. That simply isn't true. The retailer, regardless of the size and type of his store, has found that, in many cases, his costs have risen farther and faster than have the prices he can charge his customers for merchandise. He has been faced with the problem of consumer resistance to the price trend, which has steadily cheapened the dollar. And on top of that, he has been subjected to economic controls which are exceedingly complex, which involve vast masses of red-tape and which, very often, are totally impractical. There has even been evidence that OPS favors "profit control"—which was never so much as considered by Congress, and which could disrupt and grossly weaken our whole economy.

Under free competition, America witnessed the growth of the greatest mass-distribution system on the face of the earth. It was enormously important as a builder of better living standards for all. That system must not be undermined by political controls whose principal virtue is to provide more jobs and power for bureaucrats.

TAXES COST MORE THAN FOOD!

According to the president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, the American consumer now pays more in taxes than he pays for his food! In 1940, the nation spent $17 billion, 100 million for food and paid $12 billion, 700 million in taxes. Last year, by contrast, the food bill was $52 billion, 500 million and the tax bill was $57 billion.

This does not take into account the increases in taxes that have occurred during the current year, nor the additional increases which are in prospect.

Here is more proof of the fact that the tax bill is the biggest item of expense the American people face. Some of our taxes we pay directly, in income, property, inheritance and similar levies. Others we pay indirectly, as in the case of excise and so-called "luxury" taxes. Others still are hidden in the cost of every service and article we buy. All told, taxes now consume close to a third of the national income.

Taxation on this level destroys incentive. It dries up "risk capital"—why should a man take a chance on a venture when he must pay the whole cost if he loses but will gain little or no profit if he succeeds? It makes it abnormally difficult and in many cases impossible for the small business to grow—the money that would be used for expansion goes, instead, to the government. It discourages production and progress.

There is but one solution—rigorous economy in non-essential government spending, all the way from the village to Washington. At best, taxation must be heavy. If the present trend continues, it will prove ruinous.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know folks, when 3000 rioting, raucous students and youngish alumni pile out of one stadium after the game and start pushing over street cars, starting fires, and such, it is time to scratch the old dome and maybe deduct howcome we pour so much dinero into a higher education. Our young folks could be taught ill-manners in a much less expensive procedure than via the big and costly university campus and stadium. They could be made equally uncouth for much less cash outlay.

Bear in mind, folks, I am talking now about the gang of 3000—not the other 10,000 at this same big university there in California where the demonstrators demonstrated their lawless behavior after the game. I am doing my dome scratching on how to weed out the 3000 with the bad manners—they are the blot on the escutcheon of the big school. To the other 10,000 who are there—and know why—I doff my skimmer to them. They will go places.

And to make a beginning, if we are bound and determined to try to cram Big School education into every youth—sometimes far beyond his capabilities—then, let the curriculum include good manners and how to be a good sport, during the one or two years he survives at the school.

Yours with the low-down
JO SERRA

This Winter—Protect Your Buildings, Increase Production, and Safeguard Your Health with AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC

Eliminate Moisture, Stale Air, and Temperature Problems!

Thermostatically-Controlled Forced Air Ventilation Gives You FOUR BIG BENEFITS!

An electric fan of the proper size installed in your barn mixes the air with heat given off by the animals, absorbing moisture. By providing a continuously moving fresh air supply, it prevents costly deterioration of buildings and equipment—assures year-round health and comfort for your animals. It offers important advantages when used in hen houses, and farrowing houses, as well as in cow barns and stables.

Don't go through another winter with poorly ventilated buildings! Plan now to install an automatic electric ventilating system. Your Public Service Agricultural Engineer is qualified to recommend the system that best fits your needs. He will provide you with an economical, workable system based on building size, number of animals, and capacity of fan. Phone or write him today!

1. Prevents Building Deterioration. Buildings rot and equipment rusts when excessive moisture is present for long periods. Feed and hay spoil rapidly. Electric barn ventilation keeps building interiors dry.

2. Protects Animal Health. Tubercular and other respiratory disease germs thrive in warm, damp air and musty barns. Ventilation protects health and comfort.

3. Increases Production. Better animal health and greater animal comfort result in higher production—and more profits. Electric barn ventilation actually pays for itself!

4. Safeguards Your Well-Being. It's certainly not pleasant—nor is it healthful—to do chores in a barn or hen house that lacks proper ventilation.

Library Notes

In celebration of National Book

Week, the local chapter of the Women of the Moose have presented the Antioch Township Library with

"This American People," by Gerald

W. Johnson. In this book, Mr. Johnson examines the basic principles on which our country was founded, in the light of present day problems.

He finds that our doubts and confusion are much the same as those of 1787 with one striking exception.

That exception, the enormous power we now wield in world affairs, can also be fitted into the framework of our fundamental beliefs. Mr.

Johnson's book holds hope and inspiration for the thoughtful citizen.

Clara Ingram Judson calls her new book, "George Washington: Leader of the People," a dramatized biography. Certainly her book brings to life this man who has become a myth to all Americans young and old. Her word portrait of tall, hot-tempered young George is lively and appealing and explains to the reader how he developed into a tower of strength for the new republic. Mrs.

Judson's Washington as family man, soldier and statesman is a welcome addition to our library shelves and was given to the library in memory of William H. Lemker.

Brucellosis Testing Now Under Way in Lake Co.

Little time has been lost by many Lake County dairymen in having their herds tested for Brucellosis following the county wide meeting at Grayslake Oct. 23, according to Ray T. Nicholas, farm adviser.

Leo Sheldon of Lake Villa was one of the first farmers to have his herd tested. Others who signed the cooperative agreement include Grover Leech, Zion; Herman Brown, McHenry; E. Glen Lehr, Mundelein; and J. S. Denman, Lake Villa.

Two different plans are available to dairymen. These are designated as plan "A" and plan "B". Plan "A" is a test and slaughter plan with or without calf vaccination, and temporary retention of reactor plan.

Plan "B" is the certified herd plan. Lake county has a number of herds certified and awarded the certified Brucellosis Certificate. Some of the certified herds include Henry Wegener, Ingleside, R. S. Stevens, Prairie View; L. E. Carlson, Lake Villa; Finchley Manor Farm, Grayslake; Grayslake Gelatin Farm, Grayslake; Robert Paddock, Round Lake, and a number of others whose names we do not have at present.

Because of the very low percentage of Bang's reactors, it will not be difficult for Lake County to meet the health regulation to go into effect Jan. 1, 1955, requiring all grade "A" milk to be from certified herds. Cooperative agreement forms may be obtained from the Farm Bureau office at Grayslake, or from the county veterinarian at Waukegan.

Rescues Cousin from Bluff Lake Waters But Loses Hunting Supplies

Milton Kindt was rescued from the waters of Bluff lake at 1 p. m. Wednesday, Nov. 7, after he fell through the ice on the northeast part of the lake.

He was pulled from the cold waters by his cousin, Dr. H. Wiesjahn, a dentist with office at 4848 N. Lincoln ave., Chicago, who was hunting nearby. Wiesjahn took him in his car to warm him and during the excitement lost his hunting bag containing his Winchester 12-gauge pump gun, and his hunting knife.

Wiesjahn, who lives at 5750 N. Virginia ave., Chicago, is advertising in this issue a liberal reward for the return of the lost articles if they have been found.

Kindt is said to be no worse off for his misfortune.

WILMOT

Sgt. John Swartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Swartz, Fox River Park, husband of Mrs. Alice Swartz, Manitowoc, Wis., returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Swartz Nov. 1. He served in the 1st Cavalry of the 8th army in Korea, and was discharged Oct. 28th. He was a forward observer with the heavy mortar company. He and his wife spent a few days with their parents here. They are now spending an indefinite time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mittelsteadt, at Manitowoc.

The crowd was smaller than expected at the annual Wilmot High school carnival Nov. 9. This had no effect on the students, however. They were proud of their earnings, and even prouder when the king and queen of the evening were crowned. Votes to determine which of the four kings and queens would reign were represented by the amount of money turned in by each class. A grand total of $2934.54 was turned in. The freshmen handed to Chester Knight a total of $413.78. Their show, "Mrs. O'Leary's Cow," placed second in judging to give them fourth place. Beverly Henderson and Robert Schmidt represented their class, as king and queen. Beverly wore a blue satin evening gown with gauntlets and a corsage of white mums.

Sophomore's king and queen, Gene Bjerning and Donna Rasch were in third place. Donna wore a red strapless taffeta evening gown, and a corsage of white mums. They turned in a total of $489.53, but their skit, "The Minstrel," placed fourth.

The juniors, who always push the seniors usually on to victory, placed second, handing in $791. "Fireman, Save My Child," their play, came in third. Donald Halladay and Shirley Kubla looked happy, even though they didn't make the top. Shirley's dress was a red strapless taffeta with a net overskirt and stole. They were also the lucky couple to crown Carole Cale and Tom Jester, the Senior king and queen.

Their show, "The Good Old Days," came in first, plus the fact that they broke a record. Last year's Seniors set a record for money turned in, $1140, this year the Seniors handed in $1240.24. That explains why Carole looked so nice in her red strapless with a touch of white lace on the bodice. She held a bouquet of white mums when being crowned and wore a corsage of white mums when dancing. All proceeds go to boys' athletics, girls' athletics, boys' and girls' intramurals, F. H. A., dramatics, music, Spanish club, photography, Senior formal, Junior prom, secretarial club, Lyceum programs, school annual, commercial club. Those having charge of the classes were: Senior—Enoch Brice; Junior—Malcolm Alby; Sophomore—Lawrence Stein; Freshmen—Nancy Bills.

Friday, Nov. 9, Dennis Paasch, Jack Morris, Duane Skillings, Rose Schenning, Jim Schroeder, Beverly Frank and Miss Beatrice Malarick took part in the Whitewater Forensic Contest with their one act play "It's An Ill Wind." Miss Malarick, director, and the cast said "Even if we didn't place it was fun, and experience." After the play was over and the cast lost their nervousness one member commented, "Wish we could put it on again. I'd remember my lines this time."

Vance Spear, son of Harry Spear, a former Wilmot boy, receives a large share of his friend's will. Four Sharon churches, Sharon School District No. 11, the village of Sharon, Oakwood cemetery, and Beloit college were bequeathed cash through the will of the late George Mansfield, for nearly four generations a banker at Sharon, Wis. Vance Spear associated for about a quarter of a century with the bank of which Mr. Mansfield was president when he died Sept. 30, at the age of 95, will receive the bulk of the estate. Mr. Mansfield gives, devises and bequeaths to eleven and the twelfth as follows: "All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate I give, devise and bequeath unto Vance Spear of Sharon, Wis., in recognition of the many years of excellent service that he has rendered to the Sharon State Bank in which I am largely interested and with the hope that Mr. Spear will follow me as President of this said bank it is my desire that the head of the bank to be a man of some personal worth. I believe this to be for the best interest of the bank and the Sharon community. I hereby nominate and appoint my good friend Vance Spear of Sharon, Wis., as executor of this, my last will and testament, as the many years that I have been associated in business has given me full knowledge of his ability and integrity to perform his work. Because Vance Spear is the principal legatee under this last will and testament I hereby direct that he serve as executor without bond." Many of the Wilmot people will remember when the Spears lived in Wilmot. His father still lives in Sharon. Vance and his sister, Lois, were born in Wilmot.

Uncle Sam Says

They're hauling up a new flag beneath Old Glory in hundreds of American communities. It's a Treasury Department flag awarded to cities for special activity in selling U. S. Defense Bonds under the Payroll Savings Plan. Where 80 per cent or more of a town's business firms install the plan, the town becomes a Flag City, entitled to fly this special flag. Let's hope more and more towns get on this bandwagon. Employees who have the benefit of this plan are saving wisely and helping America to become strong.

Little Bighorn Stand of Custer Echo of History

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Americans have not forgotten Custer's last stand.

On the afternoon of June 25, 1876, victory war whoops of the Sioux and their Cheyenne allies echoed over grassy ridges by the Little Bighorn River. Sunshine splashed through powder smoke on the dusty bodies of 225 dead troopers of the Seventh U.S. Cavalry.

An entire column led by Brevet Major General George Armstrong Custer, known to the Indians as "Yellow Hair," had been wiped out.

This year on June 25, ceremonies at Custer Battlefield National Monument in Montana marked the 75th anniversary of the massacre. Visitors from all parts of the nation attended.

Already this year, nearly twice as many people have been to the Little Bighorn as were counted last year. National Park Service figures show a total of 18,739 visitors in the first half of the 1951 travel year (beginning October 1, 1950), only 11,891 last year. The Army shrine at Montana's Crow Agency has become a national stopping-place.

Gold in Paha-Sapa
Trespassing, gold-seeking white men provoked the Sioux to war three-quarters of a century ago. Although the Laramie Council of 1868 closed the Bozeman Trail and guaranteed to the Indians that whites would be kept out of Paha-Sapa, the sacred hunting grounds in the Black Hills of Dakota, the lure of gold had become stronger than treaties.

Two years earlier Custer, with 1,200 men, had marched through the Black Hills, officially in search of military sites. In the expedition rode two miners fresh from California, Horatio Ross and William McKay. When Ross found yellow dust in the gravel of French Creek—where Custer, South Dakota, stands today—the last great gold rush of the Old West was on.

Winter came early and hard in 1875. Starving Indians began to leave their reservations. From Chicago, General Phil Sheridan ordered a three-way pincer to close on the increasingly hostile tribes. Custer's Seventh Cavalry marched west from Fort Abraham Lincoln.

On the Yellowstone River, Custer was ordered to split off from the main column and cross the ridges to the Little Bighorn. From the heights his scouts spotted the lodges of the Indian camp. They apparently did not realize that at least six tribes—an estimated 12,000 to 15,000 Sioux, Cheyenne and Blackfeet—were in the hostile gathering. Custer divided his regiment into three columns, and with five troops rode to his doom.

Crazy Horse
Today's school children learn the names of the Indian chiefs who met him: Crazy Horse, Gall, Black Moon, Inkpaduta, the brutal old Wakpekuta, and the craftiest of Sioux medicine men, Sitting Bull.

Crazy Horse led 2,500 warriors in a swirling attack, sweeping Custer and his outnumbered command with a rain of fire. The battle was over within three hours. Major Reno, entrenched on a hill a few miles to the south with the remainder of the regiment, fought for a full second day before learning of the complete disaster which had befallen Custer.

The Little Bighorn battlefield has held a soldiers' cemetery since 1879. It contains nearly 1,700 graves of men who died in this and other battles with the Indians.

Grandmother Enjoys Party; But Wishes Daughter There

PITTSBURGH — Mrs. Elizabeth Dent recently celebrated a birthday—her 108th—at the McDonough Convalescent Home in suburban Millvale. She enjoyed herself by visiting the eighteen other patients and singing songs and hymns for them.

Mrs. Dent, well known as "Grandma" was born in Devonshire, England.

At a party given for her the day before, she was very happy, but regretted that her daughter was unable to attend. The daughter, 89-year-old Mrs. Eliza Hopkins, Ogden, Utah, was unable to come to the celebration because of ill health.

One American Lost Part of Shirt at Peace Talks

KOREA—One American's shirt-tail was hanging out at the Kaesong cease-fire talks.

W. A. Hartney, quartermaster chief on the U.S.S. Los Angeles, sailing off Korea, was ordered to produce two small admirals' flags to fly over the jeeps of Vice Adm. Charles T. Joy and Rear Adm. Burke at Kaesong. The navy's flag for admirals is blue with white stars. Hartney could find only the larger size flags in the ship's locker.

The regular white bunting material available also proved too stiff and coarse for the 10 by 12-inch flags, so all Hartney could do was cut up one of his shirts—that is, cut the tail from one.

From the material provided came two bright blue and white flags to adorn the jeeps of the negotiating admirals.

Boston Landmark

The famous landmark in Boston, known as the "Boston Stone," is an old paint mill which was imported from England about the year 1700 by a painter who had a little shop on Marshall Lane. It consists of a grinder or "muller"—a stone ball about two feet in diameter—and a stone beneath. The stone ball was rolled back and forth in the trough hollowed out in one side of the larger stone underneath it, thus grinding the paint. It has the words, "Boston Stone 1737" cut in its side.

New Table Salt

Vitamins from a salt shaker will become possible, it is claimed, through a patent issued to Merton A. Searle, St. Paul, Minn. The patent explains the system as a "table salt having the surface of each granule uniformly coated with a powdered vitamin from the class B1, B2, and C and mixtures thereof, the particles of powdered vitamin being small relative to the granules of salt."

"Lively"—New Ontario Town

A new town site "Lively" is being developed by the International Nickel Company near Creighton, Ontario, where extensive new plant additions are being installed to increase nickel production. The town is named in honor of Charles E. Lively, an Inco veteran of thirty-five years of service.

Salad Suggestion

Shred lettuce and spinach, mix them together, add a few sprigs of thyme, basil, or marjoram, and sprinkle them with French dressing for a nutritious mealtime salad.

SHORT STORY

Romance
In An Elevator

By Shirley Sargent

THE professor had been elevator starter in the six story Brent building ever since Tod Davis could remember. He clicked his castanets, guiding people into one or another elevator. Sometimes he said, "Car going up," or "Step in, please," but usually he just clicked his castanets and motioned.

Tod sidestepped the crowd going into the second car. Valerie operated elevator number three part time, helping to put herself through college. The professor winked and let Tod go in, but it wasn't any good. He was shoved into the corner opposite Valerie by eager shoppers.

Romance in an elevator, Tod thought wryly. Personal conversation, interrupted by calls of "Three, miss," and "Second, please," was nearly impossible, but Valerie managed it.

"Good morning, Mr. Davis," she said now, formally. "Why aren't you at college?"

"Too nice a morning to be cooped up," he said, watching her but conscious that every eye was on him. Everybody streamed out by the time they reached the top floor and only two nurses got in for the down ride. Quickly, he said, "I'm quitting school."

Valerie's expressions — anger chasing disappointment — told him how she felt. As people got on at the fourth floor level, all she could say was, "I'm afraid you're making a mistake."

Tod had known Valerie would be stubborn. First floor and everybody out as a new stream crowded in. Just enough confused time for Tod to stop beside her. "It's that job," he said urgently, "I'll be making enough for us to be married on. Steady work."

"So's running an elevator," she reported. "Why don't you talk to the professor?"

TOD leaned against the wall, watching the professor direct traffic. He couldn't see college for the $2.70 an hour he'd get working for a construction company. Balance the promise of an underpaid white collar job after two more years of college against that kind of money, and you didn't give a darn for education.

The castanets clicked, the professor's arm moved, people shuffled forward. Watching him, Tod was reminded of an automaton. The professor was a fixture, performing the same gestures routinely. Habit and duty guiding him. Like a puppet, Tod thought, realizing why Valerie wanted him to talk to the professor.

With the elevators all in use, he turned to Tod. "How's college?"

As the elevator zoomed past the fourth floor he took her in his arms and proposed.

"I'm quitting for a job at $2.70 an hour."

"So you can get married?"

"Valerie says she won't marry me unless I finish college."

"Smart girl," the professor said quietly, turning back to the impatient people, castanets clicking, arm waving.

In the next lull, the professor spoke hurriedly. "I took this job on temporarily 23 years ago, because I needed money to be married. I was going to teach, be a professor, but the children started coming and this was steady. Great job if you like herding sheep."

Tod watched the professor with sharpened awareness. Herding sheep. A steady job, but automatic. No thought, no chance for advancement. That's what Valerie had wanted him to see. Was Valerie afraid he'd end up like the professor?

Thoughtfully Tod boarded the third car, standing as close to Valerie as the pressure of the crowd would allow.

"I thought you had to work," she said coldly.

"I'm going back to college," he said, forgetting the people when he saw her eyes light up. They shot past the second floor without stopping. "Will you marry me right away?" he asked.

"Oh, yes," she said and the elevator zoomed past the fourth floor level as he took her in his arms.

And the next thing they knew, the crowd was shouting, "Sixth floor, everybody out."

Nate Gross

Secretary Barrett Orders Aspirin
as Pleas for Auto Tags Roll In

EDWARD J. BARRETT, OUR USUALLY AFFABLE SECRETARY of state, was in Miami Beach attending the American Legion convention when I called at his office with a request for auto license No. 144. It is a number long identified with my name—144 being 12 dozen or one gross.

When he returned to the city, Barrett, who is a fellow who likes to say yes, turned me down cold. In his own words, this is why: "I would appreciate it if you would make arrangements with some one of your contacts to ship me immediately one GROSS of aspirin tablets. As you know, my annual headache season has just opened in Springfield, and the budget for the secretary of state's office does not include an appropriation for aspirin tablets. That chorus you hear in the background is comprised of thousands of Illinois motorists singing, 'I don't want to set the world on fire, I just want a four-digit license plate.'"

"Up to my ears in license application requests, I am busily engaged in my annual study of numerology. I am groggily attempting to divide 9,000 four-digit license plates by 2,500,000 applications."

"DON'T TELL ME IT CAN'T BE DONE! THAT'S EXACTLY what I am expected to do. So far I have added, divided, multiplied and subtracted. Now I have a flash for you and your readers: 2,491,000 people in the sovereign state of Illinois are not going to get four-digit licenses in 1952."

"I think that I can safely say that every department of the office of secretary of state has proved we like to give our citizens service. Unfortunately, 100 persons can't have the same license number. We would like to give everyone who requested it his favorite combination, but when those Arabians set up the system of numerals we are using, they didn't take into consideration auto license plates, and the state law says I'm allowed to print only one set of plates for each number."

"The other day Dr. Sam Hoffman made a suggestion that we are thinking of passing on to the Legislature. The doctor thought it would be a good idea if we printed another set starting with minus 1, minus 2, etc. That way we could take care of at least two people to a number. Of course, it would still leave us with about 98 disappointed persons per number."

"A NOTHER SUGGESTION HAS BEEN MADE THAT WE switch to Roman numerals. In the confusion of people trying to figure out what number they had received we would at least have them feeling that we had given them the number they requested. The one you want, 144, would look like this: CXLIV. Nifty, eh?"

"With every request I receive the reason why a certain number is desired. As Danny Thomas would say, let me give you a 'rininstance.'"

"Dear Secretary Barrett: My wife has trouble remembering the number of our license plate and as a result she often winds up trying to drive off with someone else's car, one that is the same make and model as ours. We have talked it over and this year we think we would like to have you send us license plate number 1-928-135. You see, Alice, that's my wife, was born in 1928 and she now weighs 135 pounds. Both of these numbers she can remember, she says."

(Signed) JOHN DOE

"P. S.—Alice is now on a diet. In case she loses weight between now and Jan. 1, 1952, can we exchange the plate for one of whose last three numbers will match her weight?"

"Everything would be great for John and Alice except for the fact that it just happens that Pfc. John Smith would like that license because that's his Army serial number. Then to further complicate matters, Miss Jane Roe, who was born under the sign of Scorpio, writes us that the stars say that her lucky number is—you guessed it—1-928-135."

"THEN THERE IS THE MAN WHO WANTS NUMBER 31-770. It seems he can always remember that odd combination of figures because back in '31 he bet on the No. 7 horse in the seventh race at Arlington Park and it ran out."

"Fine, but I can't give him that number. Another applicant has had it for years and—as he is privileged to do—has requested reassignment. You see, he likes 31-770 because upside down and backwards it spells his wife's name—OLLIE."

"A Chicago poker player would like four aces, but he's willing to settle for five. Who wouldn't? A Siwash Junction cube expert would be delighted—naturally—if he could come up with 7-11. A motorist at 1556 Main st. (any town) would like very much to have 1556. I haven't counted lately, but there are probably 1,556 persons in the state who live at house number 1556 in 1,556 different towns, and they all want license number 1556."

"Where's that aspirin, Nate?"

Broomcorn History

Originally native to tropical Asia and Africa, broomcorn belongs with the sweet sorghums in the family of Holcus fodder grasses. Tradition has it that Benjamin Franklin planted the first broomcorn seed in America after he discovered it on a brush imported by a neighbor. The first reported U.S. commercial crop was produced in 1797 in the Connecticut River Valley near Hadley, Massachusetts.

Barricades Resin

Because Southern pine is a highly resinous wood, it is important to seal the knots in it, before painting, with aluminum paint or one of the specially prepared compositions. Otherwise the exudation of the resin through the paint may occur.

Creme Rinse

Creme rinse, used after each shampoo, will help eliminate split ends and will bring lovely highlights back into dry, dull hair.

Antioch and Lake Villa Over-subscribe Cancer Fund Campaign Quota

The Lake County chapter of the American Cancer Society raised a total of $33,686 in its 1951 fund raising campaign, exceeding the county quota by 20 percent, according to a final report issued this week by Mrs. H. H. Young, executive secretary. Antioch more than doubled its quota.

The drive which started April 1, was headed by Dr. M. C. Wynes and Dr. M. J. McAndrew, both of Abbott Laboratories. This marks the fourth consecutive year the county has exceeded its quota.

Three Lake county communities placed in the top 10 fund raisers of the suburban division, which includes 95 communities in Lake and DuPage counties and Cook county outside of Chicago. Lake Forest was third highest with $11,559; Waukegan-North Chicago was fifth with $7,992; and Highland Park was sixth with $6,493. The drive in Waukegan-

North Chicago was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Of the 10 chapters in the suburban division, Lake county chapter had the second highest total, topped only by the North Shore chapter which reported a contribution of $67,323. Fifteen of the 18 Lake county communities met or exceeded their local quotas. Final reports for nearly by communities, listing their chairman and the percent of goal reached, were as follows:

Antioch, Mrs. Ervin Keulman, 221%; Fox Lake-Ingleside, J. M. Clemensen, 24%; Grayslake, Mrs. Cornell M. Trowbridge, 100%; Gurnee, Walter Rudin and Milton Hanson, 91%; Lake Villa township, Mrs. Clara Perry and Mrs. William Weber, 124%.
